

Chevalier Rafael de Weryha-Wysoczański
A Chevalier from Poland.
The Memoirs of Chevalier Rafael de Weryha-Wysoczański
Matador (2016), pp104.

‘This is a work of genius, not since Kenneth Widmerpool has a character this good been created, I would love to know who the author really is. They have created this wonderful, idiotic, solipsistic shallow marvellous protagonist - it is a laugh a minute. More please we beg you, whomsoever you may be.’

by Arthur Thoma

‘A truly fascinating memoir, that will appeal to the following:

1. European nobles
2. The European aristocracy
3. Polish people
4. English female tarts

Overall, a good read.’

by Maurice T.

‘Written by the true erudite, Chevalier Rafael de Weryha-Wysoczański, this book has indisputable charm... I am full heartedly recommending it to every Knight of Heart...’

by Gosha Nagashima

‘[a] contemporary genealogical document’

by Dr P. R. Berry IV, Founder and President of the Berry Museum in St. Moritz

‘very enjoyable. [...where] a love of history, of people and of patria is certainly very apparent’

by Christie’s Head of International Private Sales Alexis Ashot

‘a lovely addition to the library at Runsa!’

by Sophie Ankarcrona
